Hastie, Wm. Wilson, R. Armstrong.

Mr. Tappan hoped the matter would be left where it was now, and he was in favor of adjourning until some future time, if the different Committees were not ready to report.

Mr. Williamson had no other object than to facilitate the purious of the Convention. The delegates in his district had not been able to neet, and he thought it would be impolitio to make any noninctions unless all were ready to report.

The motion of Mr. Williamson was laid on the table.

Mr. Dean suggested that no public announcement of candilistes selected by the delegates in the respective Senatorial Districts should be made until such nomination about he appeared by this Convention.
